

NCCM WORKSHOP OFFERINGS

The National Council of Canadian Muslims (NCCM) is committed to supporting educators, administrators and school board staff with capacity building and resources to counter Islamophobia within educational spaces.

We are certain that creating inclusive spaces through education strengthens school communities.

Workshops for Educators and Senior Leaders.

A Teachable Moment on Islamophobia

This workshop explores how Islamophobia may be impacting our schools and classrooms. It begins with an overview of Islamophobia and common myths about Islam and Muslims, then examines how Muslim children are impacted by negative public discourses about their faith. Case studies and recommendations for practice will be explored.

Exploring the Intersection: Understanding Anti-Black Islamophobia

How do we center intersectionality in our anti-Islamophobia work? This workshop we'll explore the interlocking impact of Anti-Blackness and Islamophobia on Black Muslim Communities and Black Muslim Students. Practical resources and recommendations will be shared to support efforts to promote equity and inclusion.

Healing Centered Anti-Islamophobia Practice

This workshop will explore healing centered Islamophobia work. Participants will take away practical resources and recommendations to create healing centered school/classroom climates of educators surveyed noted that Islamophobia was a serious/very serious issue in their schools

67%

14%

of educators felt equipped to address Islamophobic incidents in their schools

94%

of educators found our workshops useful/very useful in providing information to address Islamophobia

We look forward to working with you!

Book a workshop by emailing edu@nccm.ca

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF CANADIAN
MUSLIMS
Your Voice. Your Future.

NCCM.CA

WORKSHOPS FOR STUDENTS

Storytelling: Reclaiming Your Narrative

This interactive workshop will use storytelling, creative writing, and mixed media, to critically deconstruct existing narratives/myths about Muslims and examine how to engage and tell stories from an anti-racist and anti-Islamophobia lens. We will explore strategies for effective allyship and engagement with Muslims communities.

Say Salaam: Islamophobia and Bystander Intervention

This workshop explores how Islamophobia may be impacting youth on an individual level and works with students to identify the different ways they can intervene when they see Islamophobia and other forms of discrimination taking place in their school or community.

Intersections: Exploring Anti-Black Islamophobia

Taking an intersectional approach this workshop will explore the interlocking impact of Anti-Blackness and Islamophobia on Black Muslim Communities and Black Muslim Students. Case studies and practical resources will be shared.

WORKSHOPS FOR PARENTS & FAMILIES

Parents and Families: Exploring tools to Disrupt Islamophobia

This workshop will provide families with an understanding of Islamophobia, advocacy and practical strategies to confront Islamophobia within our schools and community. Case studies will be used to explore internalized forms of oppression, intersectionality and allyship.

NCCM.CA

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF CANADIAN
MUSLIMS
Your Voice. Your Future.

Book a workshop by emailingedu@nccm.ca

